Bike Safety:
Bicyclists share the same privileges and responsibilities as drivers of motor vehicles, and must obey all traffic control signs and signals.

On-road bicycling:

* You can never have too many reflectors or lights on your bike. The more you have the more safe you are as a bicyclist

Some residents believe that the cyclists are the problem and try to do this:

- A car may cut you off.
- You approach an intersection.
- Stay away from the curb as on-coming traffic as you approach an intersection.
- Make sure you have a clear view towards intersection, and driveway and intersection, and approach any intersections and around pedestrians.
- Before crossing a street
- Take precaution as you approach any bikelane, and precautionary measures make sure that cars can see you, especially if the drivers view is blocked by an object.
- Do not bike on sidewalks.
- Do not bike on sidewalks.

Do not:

- At roundabouts, bike one-way traffic with cars and use the whole lane. Bicyclists share at roundabouts.
- Travel in blindspots, do not weave in and out of parking areas.
- Do not pass a truck or a bus on their left side. This is a blind spot for them, and also for you if you off the road.
- Do not block the doors.
- Allow others to pass you always keep out of the flow of traffic.
- Before crossing a street on a bike path, scan in all directions.
- Stay 4 feet away from parked cars.
- Stay away from the curb as on-coming traffic as you approach an intersection.
- Make sure you have a clear view towards intersection, and driveway and intersection, and approach any intersections and around pedestrians.
- Before crossing a street
- In a bikelane travel with the flow of traffic, not against it.
- All vehicles make sure you have a clear view towards intersection, and driveway and intersection, and approach any intersections and around pedestrians.
- Before crossing a street
- In a bikelane travel with the flow of traffic, not against it.
- All vehicles
